I've really enjoyed knowing you for two years. Best wishes for the future. Good luck on exams, and have fun this summer. Don't forget Twistie

Always,
Karen

We, the annual staff of 1962 wish to dedicate this Helios Annual to the Spirit of Education as exemplified by two of our teachers. We see in these two aides of mankind the spirit that moves the older generations to mold youth in a pattern that will endeavor to better the lot of humanity. We see them instilling in youth the spirit that moves man to illuminate the dark corners of the universe, the spirit that moves men to conquer new and unknown frontiers, the spirit that seeks to make all men brothers. The carriers of this spirit always have a kindly word or hand for the students seeking knowledge; they toil long hours to extend the knowledge of centuries to those who will build the world of tomorrow. This spirit may at times falter or stumble, it may shrink under the cold winds of those who seek to destroy it, it may even die under those who seek to enslave the mind, but it will always remain in the world as long as such persons as these two teachers see in youth the hope of humanity. Because of their long service to the students of Central, we dedicate this Helios to Mrs. Margaret Holmes and Mr. August Arndt.

foreword

As you page through your 1962 edition of CENTRAL HELIOS, the annual staff hopes that you will notice many of the items that they have put in to intrigue your interest in Central's past. Most of these have been taken from old yearbooks which are no way similar to those of today. The first HELIOS was a monthly paper and contained no pictures except for a few drawings of the school which are reproduced in this book. Besides seeing the yesterdays of Central, you, of course, will view the present. Your faculty, classmates, organizations and activities are included in the book. What cannot be put in the HELIOS is tomorrow. It lies ahead, waiting to be unveiled. However, the century of fine education will be continued when the juniors take over the responsibilities of seniors.

central in review

Ever since its beginning, Central High School has followed a long tradition of graduating men and women capable of handling the grave responsibilities which the world offers. It all began in 1835 when the first school system in Grand Rapids was formed. Then in 1837, Miss Hinsdill was engaged to teach in a frame building on "Prospect Hill." Because of a growing population, the need for a larger and better equipped school became evident.

The first real school house was constructed on Fulton Street, at the head of Jefferson Avenue. This building burned in 1840. The new high school, called the Union, located on Barclay and Ransom, was then in progress of construction and was soon ready for occupation. The site of this building was purchased for $645.00. One of the most modern buildings of its time, it was three stories high and featured a high bell tower on the southeast corner. It was from this building that in 1862 the first class, consisting of thirteen students, was graduated; before that time it was customary to have class exercises without granting diplomas. Indicative of the growth of education in Grand Rapids is the fact that in 1885 Central's enrollment was 292 students while a short two years later the enrollment had increased to 436 students. Again in 1908, excavation began for a new high school. With the dedication of this new building on January 13, 1911, Central High School pledged itself to the noble task of continuing its exemplary record of outstanding service. Constructed at a cost of $445,000, the building was one of the most modern in the United States. Although basically the same as today, the building had several variations from the plan with which we are familiar. For example, the mechanical drawing room was located in the basement while the art rooms were placed on the fourth floor. With these modern facilities, Central High School continued its tradition of giving superior education to the present time.

The cover reproduced here is the cover of the first HELIOS. The name was chosen because it stood for Helios, the Sun God. Brightness, energy, and originality were the aims of the HELIOS. The following are excerpts from the first page.

"We are here. And the first thing in order is to tell why we are here and what we expect to do. As to our purpose. We purpose to issue a clean, original, business-like sheet, giving news of everything connected with the school. Whether we shall be able to achieve our aim depends largely upon the citizens. Hoping that our efforts will meet with popular approval, and that the public will take an active part in furthering the same interests, we commend our issue to the world."

Carol,
Hope that you have a nice vacation
Best of luck in the years to come.
Sincerely
Miss Leslie

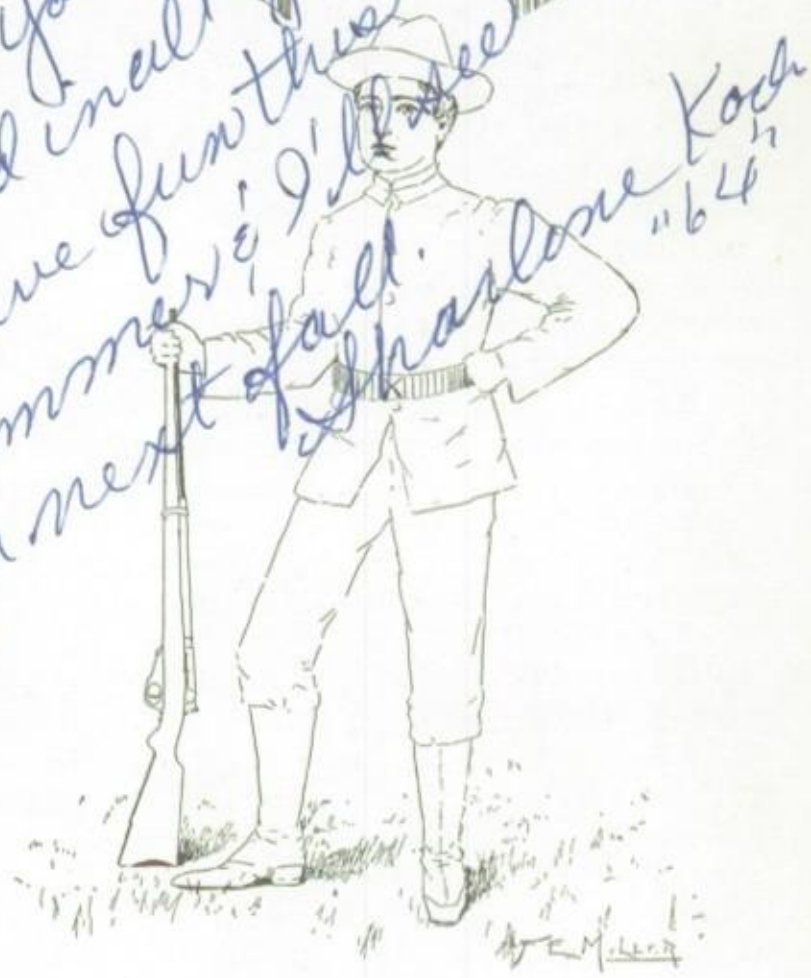
Along with scholarship, a rigorous program of citizenship and sportsmanship was established at Central. Such subjects as Greek, astronomy and geology were as prominent in the early years of Central as English, math, and biology are today. Also important in its history is the fact that Central has had some of the most excellent and dedicated teachers on its faculty. Although well-educated teachers were difficult to obtain during the 1860's, Central High School staffed its faculty with the graduates of America's finest colleges and universities. With such excellent guides in the process of education it is no wonder that Central graduates have made an important contribution to the progress of the world. Until the early 1910's, fraternities and secret societies were allowed to operate as school sponsored organizations. They had initiations, pledges, and secret meetings, but they did not operate to such an extent as the fraternities and sororities in colleges. The first school paper which appeared similar to the present Rams' Review was published in 1886 under the name of Journal. The school yearbook was very different from the present Helios. The pictures of students, with the exception of class officers, were not included in the annual until 1907, and then they were taken by session rooms. These organizations and publications helped to instruct the students in handling responsibility and, therefore, in the future, accepting the responsibilities of good citizens. Sportsmanship has always been highly regarded and has become part of the liberal education which Central gives to all those willing to accept it. Both boys and girls have been taught the fine points of sportsmanship through football, basketball, softball, volleyball,



Three cheers for Cuba Libre,
For the fall of Spanish laws,
And for the boys who left the gridiron,
To fight for Freedom's cause.
E. L. M.

1898

and other sports. Keeping in the spirit with the past, there are at the present time two organizations, the Agona Club and the C-Club, which include students with interest and honors in sportsmanship. Until their deterioration, these organizations will profess the values of good sportsmanship, leadership, and citizenship.

With reverent tribute, Central has always remembered its men and women who gave their lives for their school and their country. The first monument of its kind in Central's history is the stone placed on the east lawn of Central's campus. It was dedicated to the "Honor of the loyal service of the 6th, 7th, and 10th regiments, Michigan Cavalry Volunteers, from 1862-1864, who trained on the premises of Central High School." This memorial was given by the city of Grand Rapids and the Sophie De Marsac chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. The tragic death in 1918 of Gordon Scott in a football game brought sorrow to the entire community. To commemorate the fine service of this outstanding young man and to inspire others to follow the high ideals of service to mankind, the school established the highly coveted Gordon Scott Cup, symbol of all the best in American youth. Death also swept away many Central men in the First World War. To preserve the glory of their deeds for future generations, a monument was placed on the front lawn. To further instill love of peace in the hearts and minds of men, the annual Armistice Day program was begun soon after the World War I. This program has continued throughout the years as one of Central's most followed traditions. After the Second World War, the men and women of Central who had given their lives for their country in that conflict were also included in the ceremony. In November, 1945, a memorial plaque was placed in the front hall with the names of former students who had fallen on the battlefield during the second big war. Later, the Central students who died in the Korean War were also honored in the November eleventh ceremony. We all can take pride in the fact that Central High School has always honored those who gave the supreme sacrifice of life itself in defense of Democracy.

Since the Second World War, Central has experienced and absorbed many new changes. For several years after the war, many veterans were enrolled at our school and gave it a more mature atmosphere. Another interesting change was the breaking of the male hold on the cheerleading squad. The pre-war, all male cheerleading squad never reappeared as the girls took over the activity during the war. Recent years have also seen a great deal of modernization of the facilities of Central High School. The science department has especially benefited from this program. The addition of new and more counselors has been of great value to students since expert advice on problems is now readily available.

The New Buildings

Through these advances, Central has kept faith with the students it seeks to serve.

The final and only true measure of any educational institution is what the graduates it has sent out into the world have done to better the lot of mankind. Central has met this standard of excellence in a splendid fashion indeed! Foremost of Central graduates is the late Senator Arthur Vandenberg who was largely responsible for United States participation in the United Nations and for the inception of the Marshall Plan. Another celebrated graduate of our school is Stuart Edward White, noted author on pioneer life. Central graduate Christopher Zaranfonetis was a leader in the field of control of typhus. Other noted Central graduates are John Martin, former Secretary of State of Ohio; United States Judge Thomas McAlister; Lee Woodruff, editor of the Grand Rapids Press; Paul Goebel, All-American football player, former mayor, and University of Michigan Regent and Thomas Gilbert White, artist. In truth, this space is too limited to include the many Central men and women who have served their nation and the world well.

As we look back at the many years of service Central has rendered from its meager beginning in 1862 to the present year 1962, it has and will continue to graduate educated men and women capable of accepting the problems of this troubled world. It was and still is Central's task to mold the rough, unlearned sons and daughters into the citizens who will lead the community in the future.

As the 100th graduating class from Central High School embarks on the journey of life, they leave behind them the responsibilities of the upperclassmen as did all the previous classes. To some Seniors, the past year is the summit of the ladder which they began to climb thirteen years ago. To others, it may be another step toward a college education. Whichever the case, the year was marked by a great many activities showing the knowledge and experience that the Seniors had gained as underclassmen. The great success of the cross-country and basketball teams make every Senior a little prouder of Central. The Home Coming dance, "Golden Moments" with King Ted Sampanes and Queen Petra Voigt was a gay and festive affair. The senior play, "Onions in the Stew," a class production, and the Senior participation in "Annie Get Your Gun," a delightful musical, uncovered previously hidden dramatic talents. Dress up day saw the Seniors appearing in costumes that were both humorous and clever. As the sweet perfumes of spring drifted through the air, the time came for the Seniors to display their accomplishments in high school and their hopes for the future on Numeral Day and at Class Night. In June came the Prom, the most important dance in the school year for the departing Senior. The climax of the year came in that ceremony which has prevailed at Central since 1862—graduation. Although now the 209 Seniors leave to seek various goals, they will always remember their final year at Central High School.

Hi ya Carol,
Well - this year is now over & good ole summer time is here. Have lots of fun this summer & see ya next year.

We, the makers of tomorrow,
Guided by wishes and dreams,
From you, Tradition, borrow
The foundation for our schemes.

We are the hope of the future,
Traveling a well-worn road.
Progress, you serve as teacher
Sharing your secrets untold.

Wisdom, we call upon you to tell us
Which path to take through doubt.
And when we falter, Strength, you thus Stand fast to help us out.

Honesty, you are the true light;
Close by your side we stay.
You, we call in the dark night
When Truth from her path does stray.

Tradition, Strength, and Honesty,
Each in its turn we call.
But, Progress, you must always be
The life-blood of them all.

From the early days in the Lyon Street building to the start of its second century in the present structure, Central has had a different meaning to the students in each class but to all it was a very significant experience. Today's students are no exception. The seventh grade is somewhat bewildered but very pleased by the many new opportunities and activities that high school life provides. Increasing in stature is the eighth grade with its many new activities and its decisions on program planning for the years ahead. The ninth grade is at the peak of the junior high world with its full participation and leadership in junior high events. Enthused over all the senior high activities in which it may now participate but also aware of its new responsibilities is the tenth grade. The juniors prepare for their final year at Central by participating and assuming responsibilities in the whole galaxy of senior high school life.

eleventh grade

The eleventh grade is a time of preparation through participation for the Juniors. They are organized as a class with their own officers and class meetings in order to facilitate their many activities and also to bring themselves into a closer relationship with one another. The Juniors had a potluck, a toboggan party, and other affairs to brighten the school year. They raised money for their projects by shining and waxing cars and through other means. Perhaps the most important event of the year for them was receiving their long awaited class rings. The Juniors performed a valuable service for the school by helping seventh graders through the Big Brother-Big Sister Club. They are also active in a wide variety of other groups and clubs in which they assume roles of leadership and responsibility. The Junior Class also sponsored the Prom in conjunction with the Senior Class. On the academic side, the Juniors gave thought to various careers and fields of employment as they prepared their vocational themes. Scholastic excellence among the Juniors is awarded recognition at the Honors Assembly. As they begin the second century of classes graduating from Central, the Juniors will take on the responsibility of keeping the academic and moral standards established here 100 years ago.

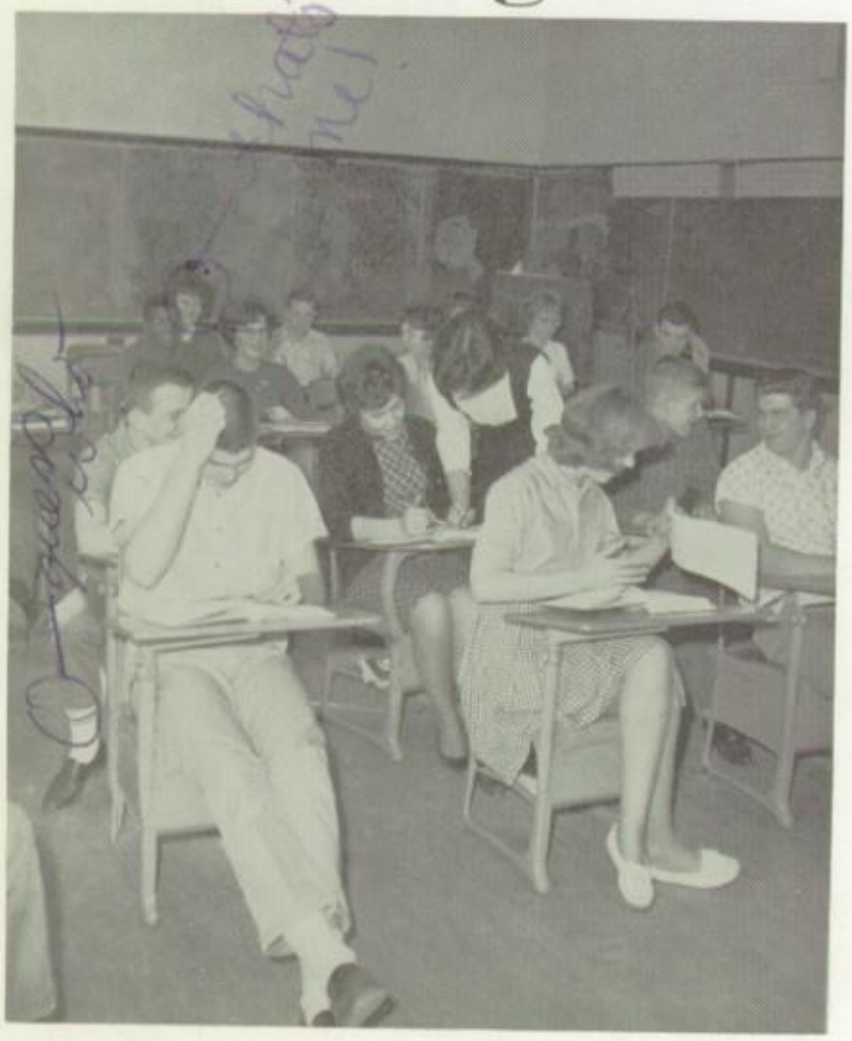
tenth grade



This is Miss Shubmehl's geometry class—looks like they're getting a lot of work done.

With only two years of high school before graduation, the sophomores enter a world that offers them a large variety of new opportunities but that is tempered with the need to be aware of their greatly increased responsibilities. As they are now part of the senior high, they can participate in many new and interesting activities. For the first time, they can take part in the glamour and excitement of Homecoming and other senior high dances. The sophomores are also eligible to enroll in many clubs and organizations for the first time. Their star athletes are the school's stars because outstanding sophomore players are placed on varsity squads. The reserve teams helped those who still needed perfecting in their athletic skills. But with these many opportunities, the need also came for the sophomores to do their best in school work, to contribute to the success of their organizations and to conduct themselves as mature students at all times.

The above picture is a reprint from the 1910 Helios Annual depicting a sophomore hard at work. As you may have noticed the desks and chairs are very different from those seen in our study halls today. Even though the environment for study has changed over the past 52 years, the need for education has not decreased. So as you note the concentration on the face of this underclassman, remember that only through education can you improve or advance yourself and your posterity.

After two years of high school, the ninth graders are at the peak of the junior high world. Having gained much experience and knowledge from their previous years at Central, the freshmen participated enthusiastically and in large numbers in junior high activities. Because of their maturity and confidence, they provided most of the leaders for these activities. The freshmen took part in their own athletic teams that compete in games and meets with teams from other schools. The Junior High Student Council sponsored dances for the seventh, eighth, and ninth graders. The experience gained in these activities prepared the freshman for later participation in senior high affairs. The biggest change for the freshmen came in their academic program. For the first time, they were pursuing a course that was largely of their own choosing. They also were provided for the first time with study halls to help ease their increased burden of studies. These privileges were of use to the freshmen only if they realize that by accepting the responsibilities given them they now can receive full value from their years in junior high school.

eighth grade

The eighth grade is both a time for fuller participation in school activities and also for deciding the future course of study by the students. Having had a full year's acquaintance with high school life, the eighth graders are well prepared to take part in many activities such as the Junior High Student Council, the Junior High Red Cross, the Intermediate Band or Orchestra, and the Junior High Chorus. Through organizations such as these, eighth graders acquire knowledge that will be of use to them in later years in high school. However, the most important part of eighth grade is the choosing of an academic program that will be followed through all the rest of the years in high school. The students must choose between the college preparatory course, the general course, and the vocational course as the basis of their educational development. In making this choice, the eighth graders are taking an important step in charting the course of their lives.

seventh grade

Changing from the limited horizons of the elementary schools to the vast new world of high school is both a challenge and opportunity to seventh graders. They must adjust to having many teachers during the day instead of one, to having to study more seriously and with more concentration, and to adjust to the multitude of rooms and halls in Central. However, all is not confusion and bewilderment for the new students as high school offers many opportunities to expand the scope of their lives. During this first year, many new and lasting friendships are formed. The diversified academic program reveals new and different subjects in which they may develop an interest. Also, they are able to participate in many clubs and organizations that help to mature them. With these tools, the seventh graders begin to create the structure of their lives.

FACULTY

Central has always been privileged to have a fine administrative staff. This year is no exception, for the teachers are all well trained and qualified. Along with their duties of education, the principal and teachers show interest and concern in the problems of the students. The counselors are especially helpful in aiding the students to plan their curriculum and solve any problem which may arise. Other members of the staff, such as the maintenance crew and the cooks, also help to reassure the comfort of the students. Therefore, as the school graduates its 100th class, it also commemorates 100 years of fine education.

Romulus V. Romani
Albion College, A.B., University of Michigan, M.A.

principal

In accordance with the theme of the Centennial, Mr. Romani made the following statement concerning Central's past and present accomplishments and his hopes for the future:

Central High School has been one of the foremost schools in the state of Michigan in presenting to its students a well rounded program with the focus always on means by which our instructional program could be improved. Presently, with the addition of new counselors, a separate attendance office, modernized main office, a reduction of pupil-teacher ratio, and a rebirth of interest in staying in school by the student body, we see no slacking in the main reason for which our school exists. In the future, I see Central High School again as a leader in presenting a curriculum which meets the needs of its student body in the most efficient manner possible, whether this will include teaching machines, television, programmed learning, or any other teaching device.

Since the job of the principal is one of the main positions in the operation of a school, Mr. Romani said the following concerning his position:

"The job of a modern day principal is so complex and so important that he must be constantly on the alert to do everything within his power to make possible the creation of an organizational structure which can originate changes and evaluate and coordinate planning so that the educational experience of the student body will be a meaningful whole instead of simply a sum of uncorrelated experiences."

assistant principal

Mr. Vruggink, the new assistant principal, has done much this past year to assist Mr. Romani. Assuming this new helm, Mr. Vruggink has become better acquainted with the problems and developments in the field of education. These include working with department heads and co-ordinating all areas of instruction; visiting classes—working with lesson planning, techniques of teaching, procedures, devices; co-ordinating student activities related to the institutes, conferences; and building supervising of the student teacher program. He made the following statement concerning the education and the ever increasing complexity of the world.

"Our curriculum has become more diversified. Rather than offering strict academic work, we have branched into fields of vocational training.

The philosophy of our society has changed. One hundred years ago, our society was primarily agrarian and the education was done in the home. . Now, however, we are an industrial society in which we have to prepare to meet all the needs of a complex world."

maintenance

Just like a person, a school must be in good condition if it is to perform its assigned tasks. It is the responsibility of the maintenance staff to see that the Central High building remains in excellent physical condition. The staff does this by keeping the halls and rooms clean, heating the school, receiving and delivering supplies to the teachers, performing necessary repairs, and keeping the school yard in fine shape.

cafeteria

Not only an army but a school also moves on its stomach. Seeing that the patrons of the cafeteria receive nourishing and well-prepared food at economical prices is the duty of our kitchen staff. Not only must the staff meet the demands of many hundreds of hungry students, but it must do this within the short period of time that our three lunch periods contain. After this horde of students and teachers have left, the staff also has the duty of cleaning up the cafeteria.

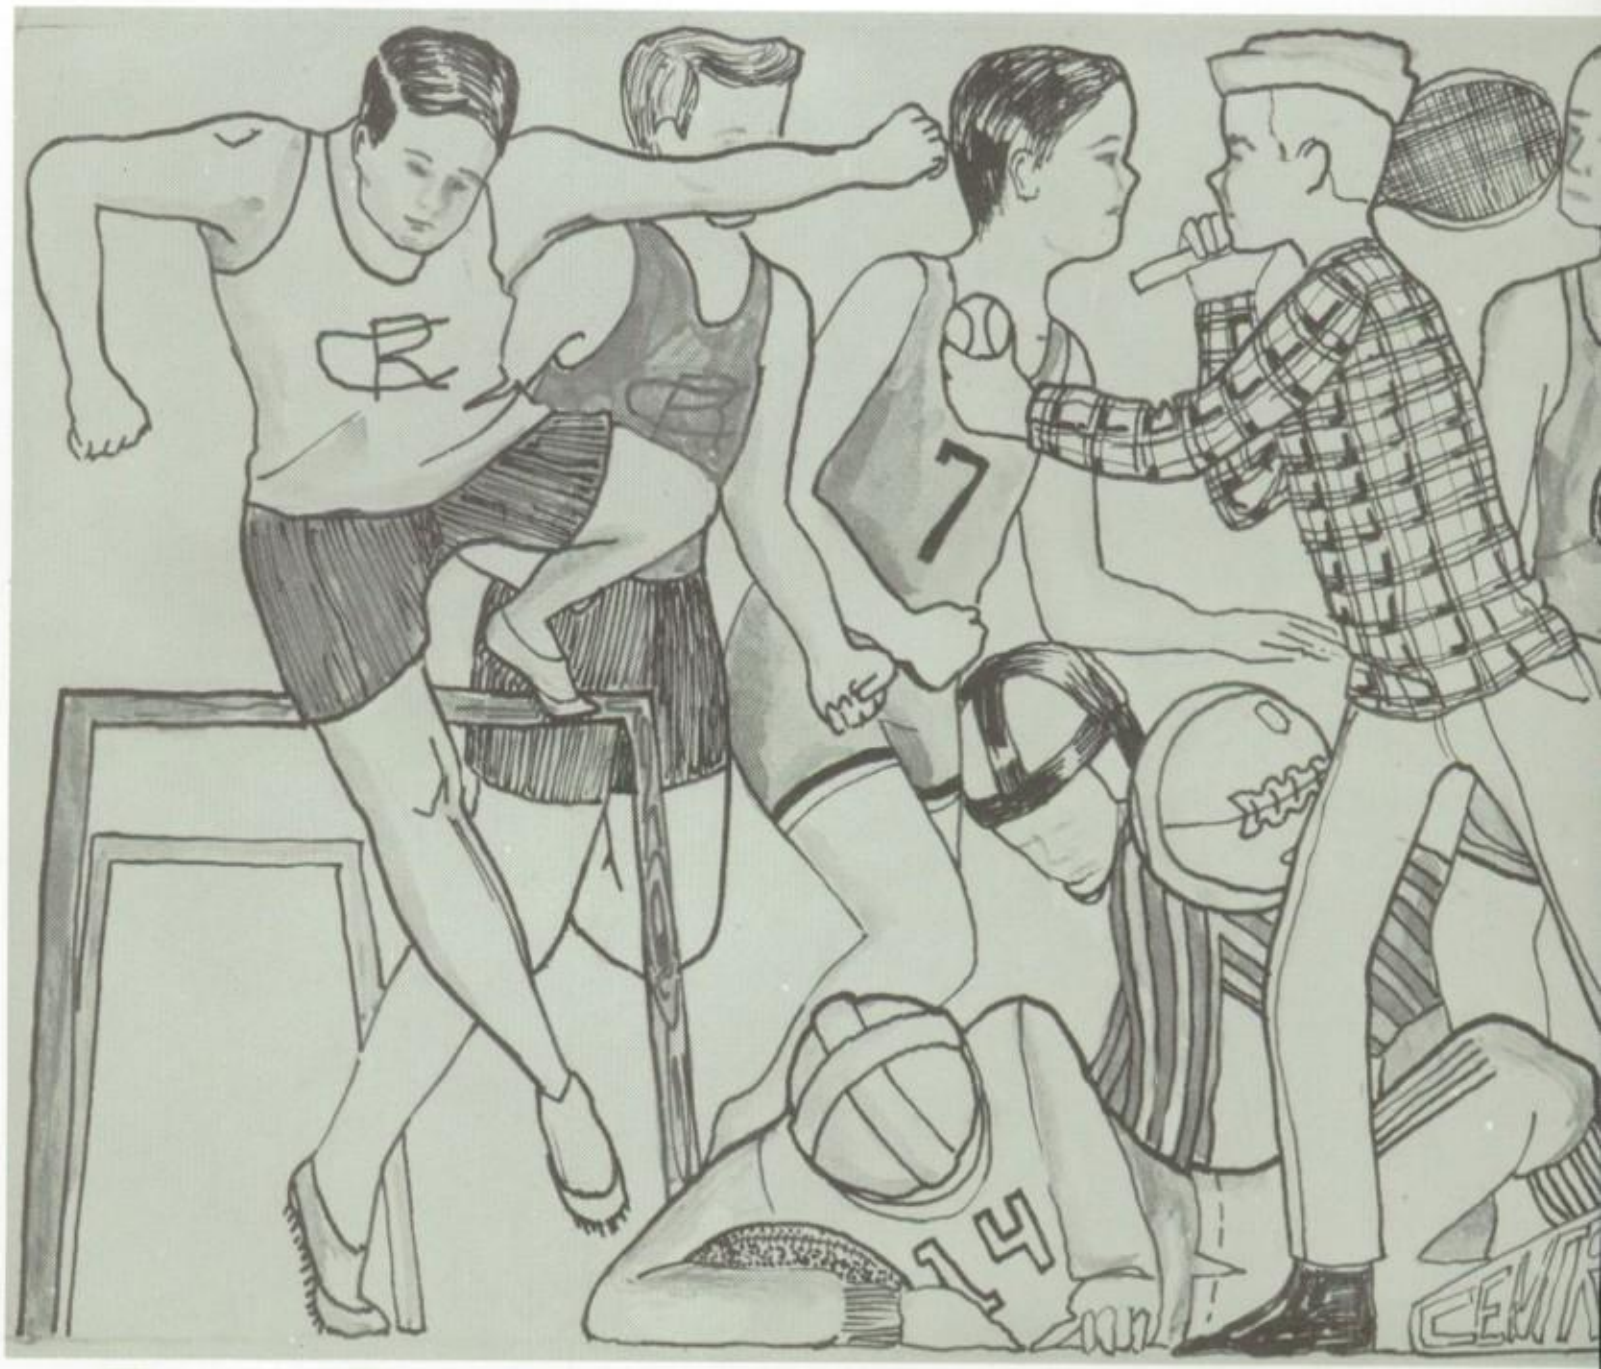
SPORTS



Since 1894, when Central's first athletic team was organized, the football team, Centralites have shown great interest and pride in Central's world of athletics. This fact was evident in 1897 when the TABULARIUM, which was the same as the HELIOS, was dedicated to the high school team. At one time before the turn of the century, a girls' basketball team had been organized. Over the years the number of sports increased to include the various athletic teams of today. Besides having a varsity team in all of these sports, Central has freshman and reserve squads in a great number of them. It is especially encouraging to have these teams which give the younger students an opportunity to participate in athletics. On these teams, much valuable experience is gained for when, at last, the members move up to the varsity. Through activity in sports, members also acquire physical fitness and learn the value of teamwork and sportsmanship which is necessary both on and off the field.

Although the days when Central football teams played the University of Michigan have long since passed, the pride and skill that has characterized our teams is still with us today.

varsity football

This year's football team, although it didn't do as well as many had expected, compiled the best record we've had in quite some time. With its record of 5 wins and 4 losses, the team placed third in the city standings. After a slow start at the beginning of the season, our team improved greatly and finished the year in fine style. An innovation was introduced this year; the last point of the season was scored by three linemen running in the backfield. Although we will lose many players through graduation, we should have a good team again next year.

second team football

The second team this year, although it didn't have a good season, gave the boys much valuable experience. With a record of two wins and five losses, the team finished in fourth place in the city standings. Under the coaching of Mr. Hecker, the boys have learned a great deal and will be valuable to next year's varsity squad.

Assistant Coach Larry Barcheski and Coach Gene Hecker.

freshman football

This year's freshman squad had a fairly successful year. By winning five games and losing only two, they finished third in the city standings. The main purpose of the freshman team is to teach the boys the fundamentals and lay a good foundation for future teams which was accomplished by the coach, Mr. Ludwick.

cross country

For the second consecutive year, the cross country team has done a tremendous job. Going undefeated throughout the season, the team not only won the Y.M.C.A. duals but repeated as the city and regional champions as well. Also, our team finished twelfth in the state meet. Even without much support, the team accomplished a great deal this year under the coaching of Mr. Cleavland. In Roy Powers and Klaus Schagat, we had the two finest runners in the city. Although we are losing these two boys and many other good ones through graduation, we are anticipating another great season next year as a Junior, Dick Verbrugge, placed first of the city runners in the regional meet.

varsity basketball

The varsity basketball squad this year provided both excitement and heartbreaks alike. With a record of ten wins and five losses in season play, the Central team finished second in the city standings. Also the team won the District championship in the state tournaments. The highlight of the season was the Christian game in which Annel Simpson established a new City League single game scoring record of 50 points and the team scored a total of 97 points, the season high for the city. Some of the heartbreaks of the season were losses to South and the loss to Union in the tournaments. Although we are losing the core of our team through graduation, we should fair quite well again next year.

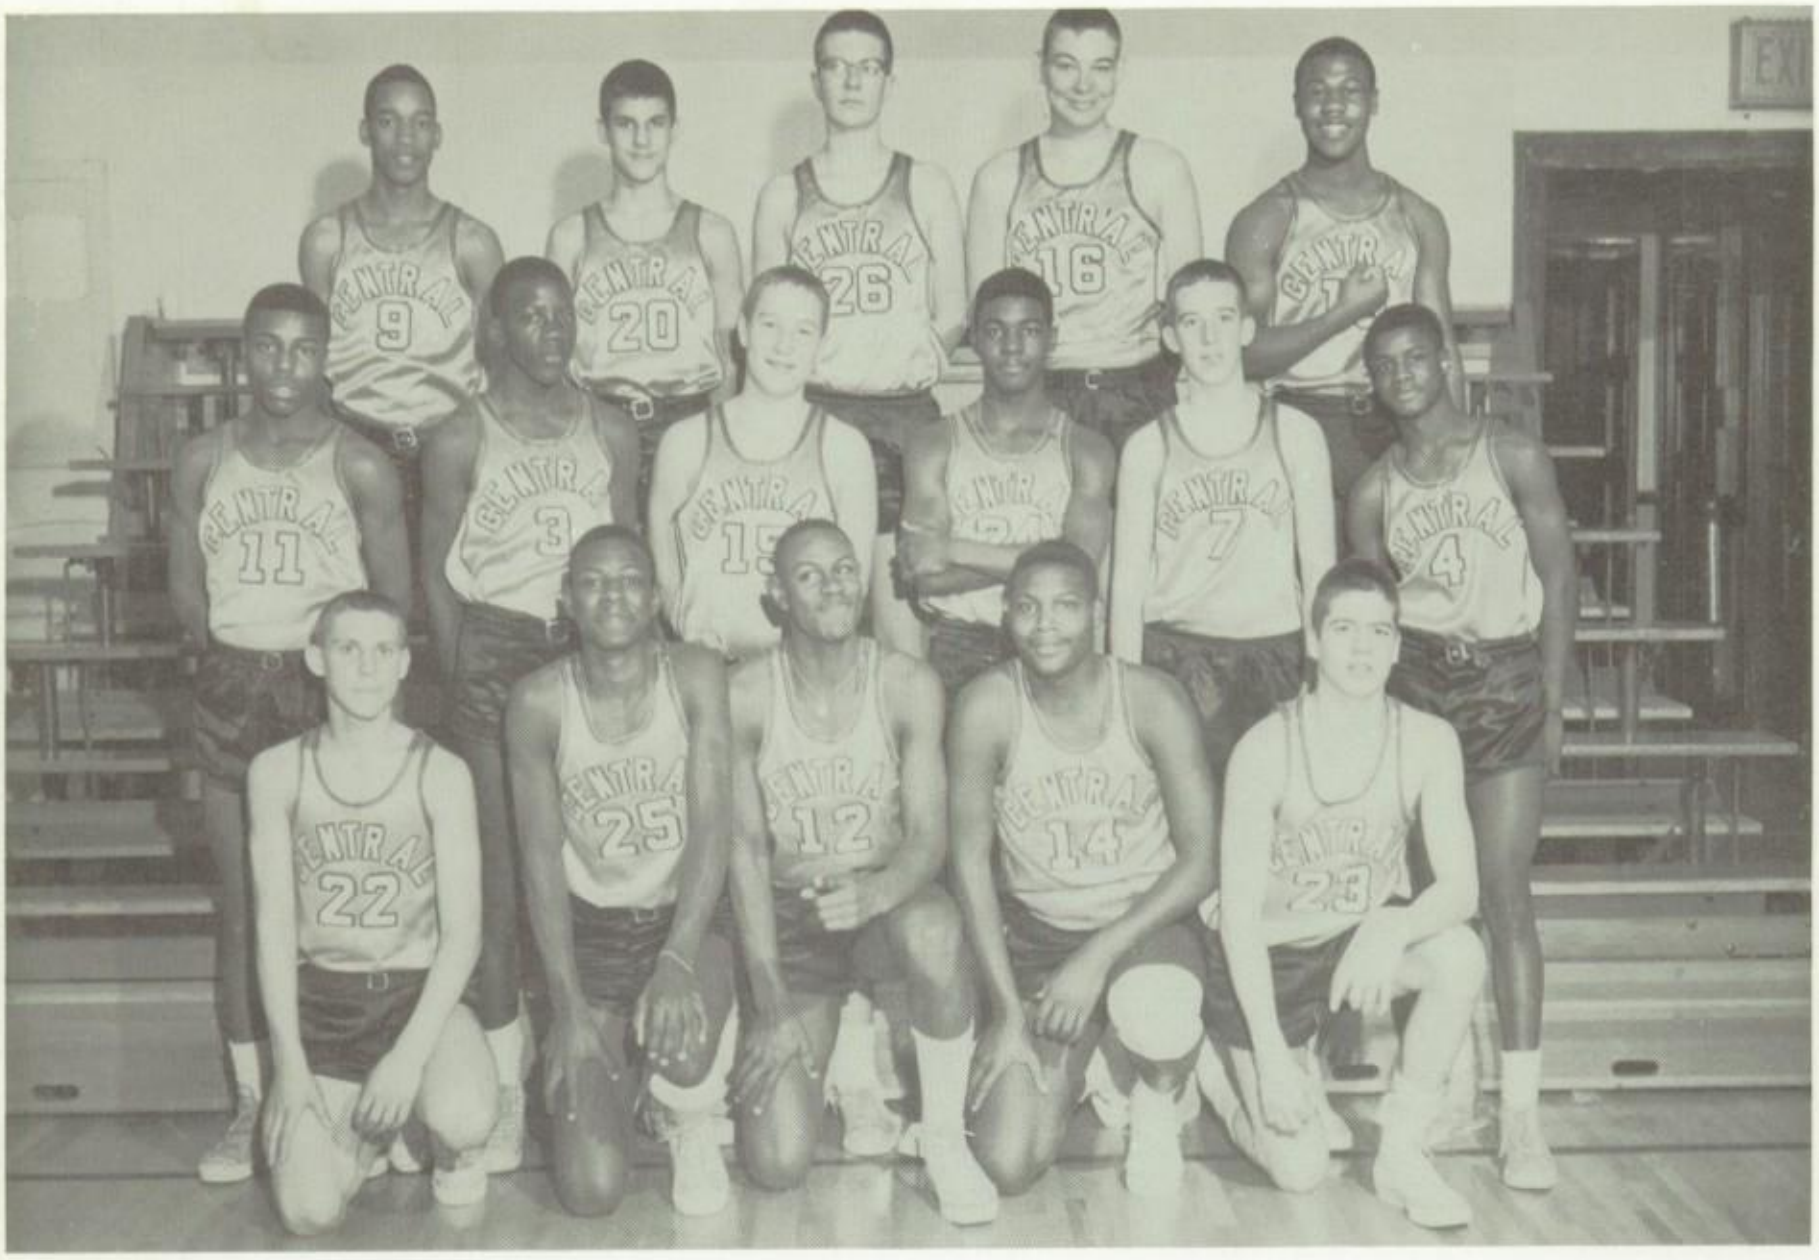
second team basketball

The Central High School second team basketball squad had a very disappointing season this year. By finishing the year with a record of 1 win and 14 losses, the team placed seventh in the city standings. After going through the entire season without winning a game, the boys finally pulled together in the last game to win it for Mr. Fox, the coach. Based on their past record, the boys will have to improve over the next year if they hope to help the varsity next year.

Coach, Mr. Fox; Managers, Ron Merrison and Tom Brown.

First row: Dave Huyser, Jim Hoebeke, Tim Celmins, John Vendenberge, Kim Miller.

Second row: Bob Caswell, Bob Ditmar, Kirk Strong, Joel Hubka, Bruce Barber.



First row: Bob Kruger, Tom Floyd, Willard Edwards, John Grady, Barry Barr.
Second row: Jim Davis, Gene Grady, Dave Ripmaster, Tom Gorden, John Muste, Sylvester Figures.

freshman team basketball

Central's freshman basketball team experienced a very successful season. With a record of 9 wins and but 1 loss, Coach Gene Hecker led the little Rams to a second place standing in the City League. Based on the record, Central is producing some fine basketball players for the future. With improvement that comes with experience, the boys on this year's freshman team should be very beneficial to future varsity teams.

Coach, Mr. Hecker; Managers, Roger Wesorick and Denny Larson.

swimming team

The swimming team this year had a very disheartening season. Even without winning a single dual meet and by placing last in the City Meet, the team still showed a great deal of desire and potential for the future. Once again, the swimming team is in a stage of rebuilding, as there were only three seniors, but many promising underclassmen, on the squad. In junior Dean Rathbun, along with a few up-and-coming sophomores, there seems to be a sound nucleus for next year's team.

Kneeling: Dickie Jourdan, Cy Rathbun.

Bottom row: Dennis Wilcox, Steve Hula, Bob Jourdan, Don DeWitt, Eric Kiander, Gary Thomas, Roy Powers.

golf

Composed mostly of underclassmen, the golf team this year is facing the task of rebuilding for the future. However, Mr. Engelmen, the coach, is fortunate enough to have as a returning letterman, Tom Gunn, who was the mainstay of last year's team, by becoming medalist in the Regional Meet and placing third in the State Meet. With much hard work and drive, this year's team can bring home some needed points for the All-Sports Trophy.

Coach, Bob Engleman

First row: Larry Scudder, Bob Mohn, Gary Bracewell, Tom Gunn, Dennis Bush, Ken Wesorick, Jack Pressey.

Second row: Bobby Engleman, Louis Ambroes, Bob Ashely, Bill Gesler, Louis Wearherbee, Joe Kuzniack, Bill Hansen, Dan Kemp, Howard Inchenrock.

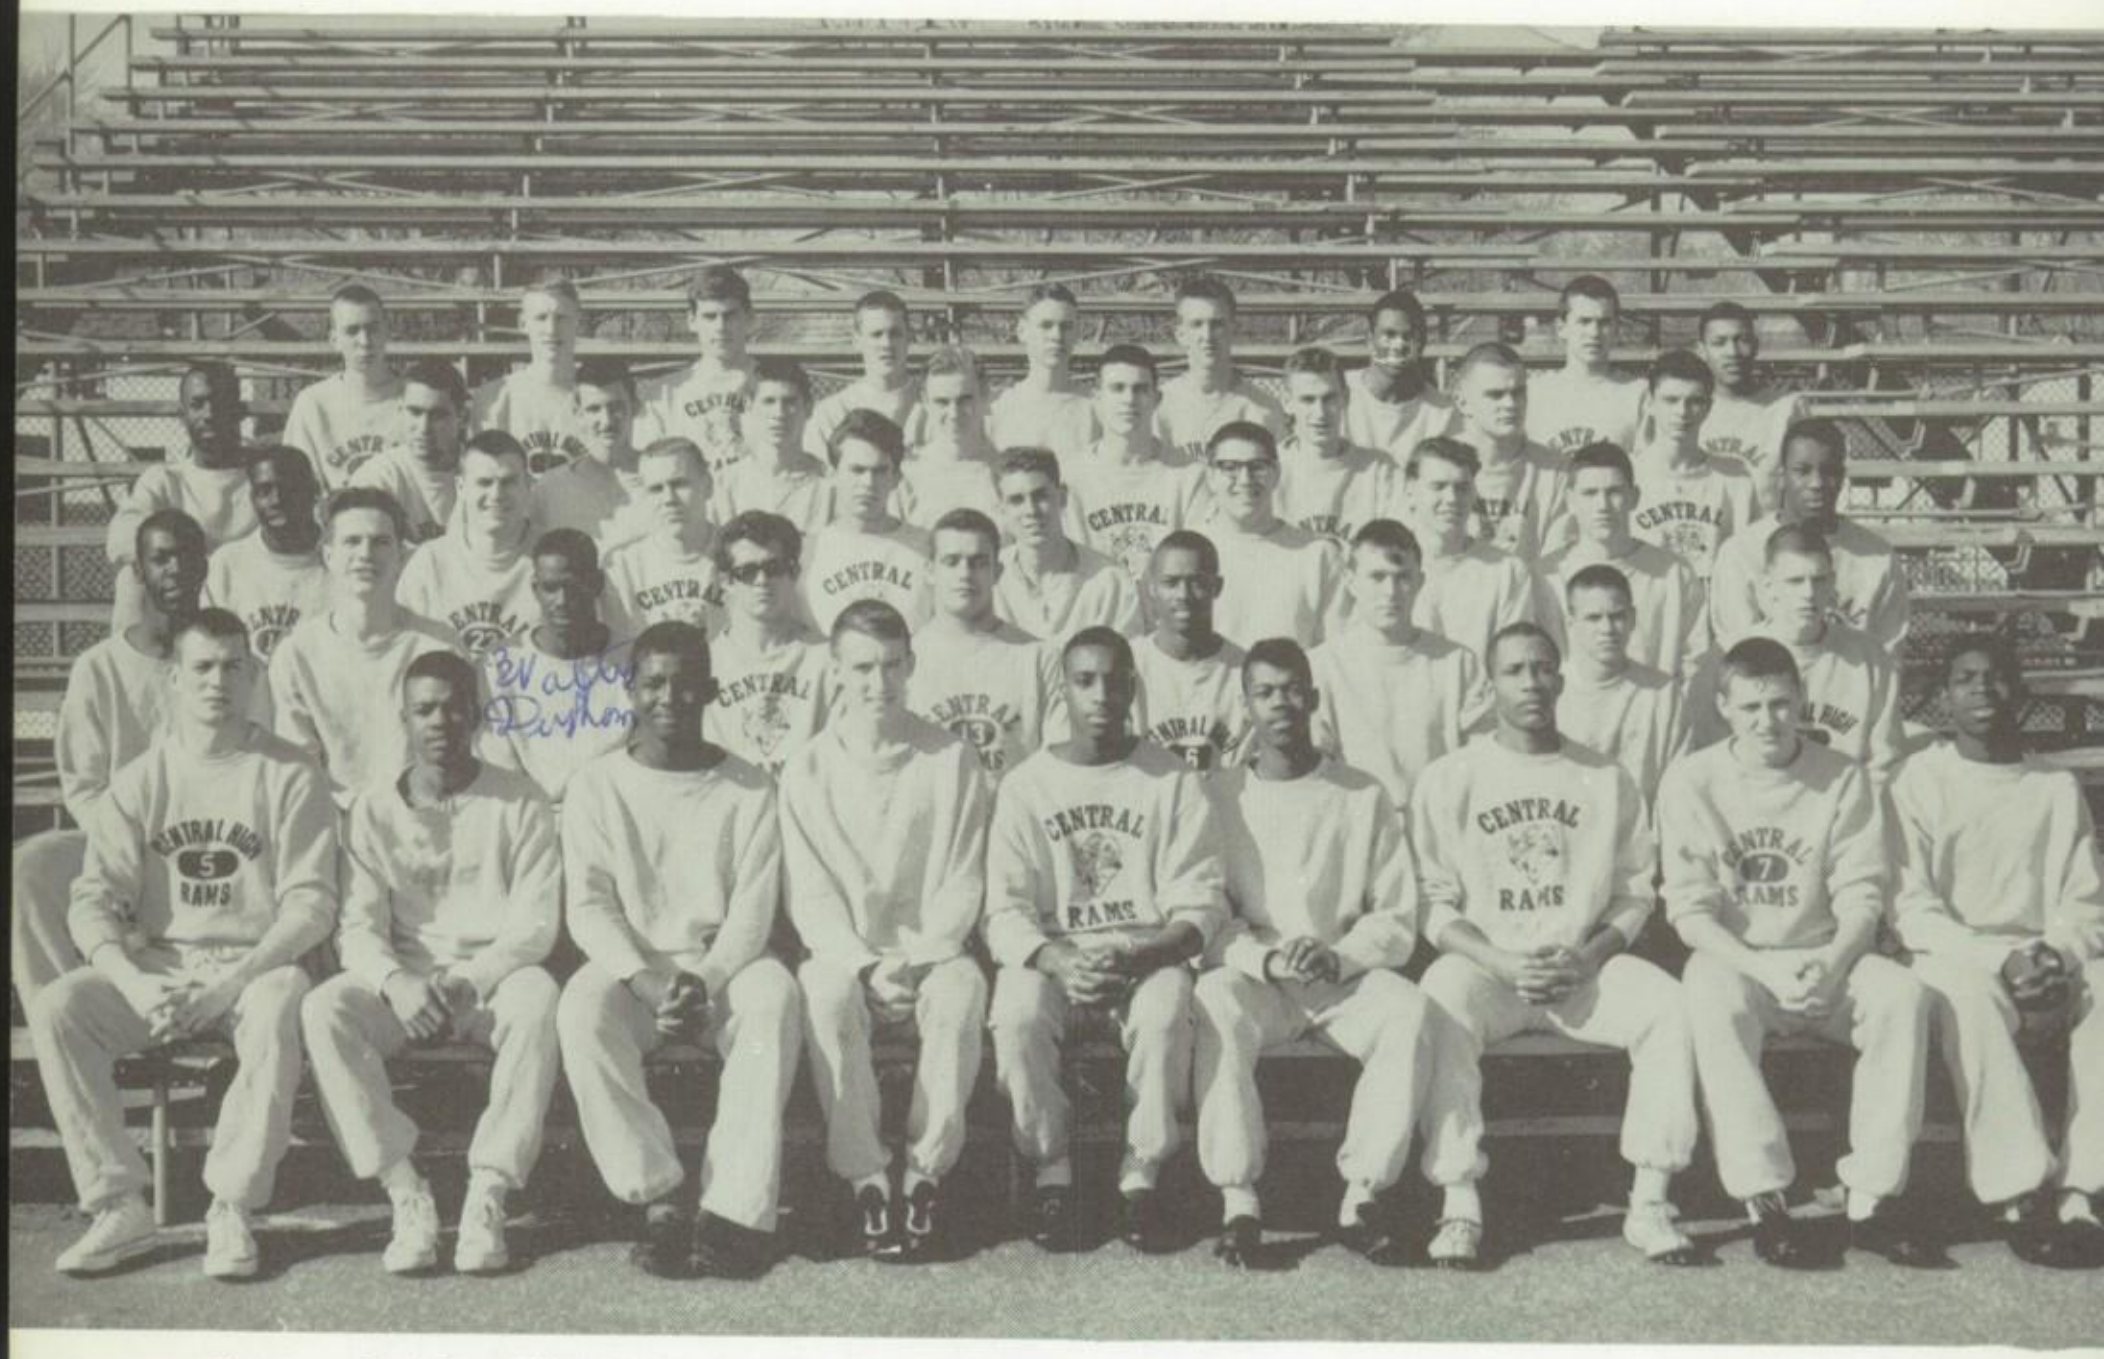
Mr. Hecker, coach.

tennis

It may take you a few weeks to find this and just think now you are out of school. It was fun. see you next year John

The tennis team has experienced some discouraging setbacks in the past years, but this season they are more determined than ever to gain a first division finish. The racket squad has some fine talent in returning veterans such as Dick Hickok, Jim Johnson, Larry Williams, and Jim Van Houten as well as several promising sophomores. Practicing at Franklin Park regardless of wind, rain, or opponents, the team is under the skilled guidance of Coach Gene Hecker who predicts some good tennis from the Rams in the forthcoming City League and Regional matches.



First row: Fred Barr, Elijah Baker, Roudolph Booker, Roger Braybrook, John Briggs, Bob Brown, Maurice Calloway, Steve Cooper, Willie Davis.
Second row: Tom Devlin, Jerry Dunn, Walter Durham, Saleam Estafans, Bob Harold, Chuck Holt, Fred Hjort, Steve Hula, Dave Huyser.

Coach, Mr. Fox; Managers, Carl Gunderson and Mike Micke.

varsity track

This year's varsity track squad, under the fine coaching of Mr. Fox, is looking forward to a very prosperous season. With the return of several major letter winners and other veterans, the Central High tracksters pose a definite threat for the top rank in city competition. Leading the squad are two Seniors who placed in last year's State Meet. They are pole vaulter Don Keegstra and broad jumper Dale Weekly. All in all, it appears that we are in for a successful year.

First row: Ron Williamson, Moris Boros, Charles McLaughlin, Fred Griffis, Dave Geldhof, Gary Meyers, Andre Pierre, John Nunn, Bruce VanderJagt.
Third row: Grant Wilson, Lenord Smith, Gary Brown, Sam Taylor, Pete Samuelson, John Kaye, Dave VanDyke, Steve Lachniet, Jim Williams, Ron Schell.

freshman track

The freshman track team, composed of boys in the ninth, eighth, and seventh grades, is expected to bring honors to Central's junior high this year. Under the fine coaching of Mr. Posthumus, the boys learn the fundamentals and build a foundation for future varsity track teams. It is encouraging to see the usual large turn out for the team again this year, as this shows the interest and desire of the boys to participate in organized sports. We are looking forward to a very productive year.

Coach, "Russ" Posthumus.

Second row: Dave Berson, Boyd Grinwis, Dick Gerritson, Dave Delacker, Bob Caswell, Charles Griffis, Gary Thomas, Don Williams.

varsity baseball

This year the baseball team has a new look. With the Cross Country championship still fresh in his mind, Mr. Cleaveland, our new baseball coach, has visions of adding another championship to his previous laurels. Although this will be his first year as head coach, Cleaveland will be bolstered by a good crop of returning lettermen as well as some promising sophomores. On the diamond, the Rams have three men who were members of last year's All Star team. They are third baseman Bob Johnson, pitcher Bill Fairbanks, and outfielder Rich Uhlmann. With the combination of the new coach and the returning lettermen, Central High's baseball team has a good chance for first place in the City League.

Coach, George Cleveland; Assistants, Karl Killman, Don Martis; Managers, Bruce Hawey and Steve Zill.

freshman baseball

In the words of Mr. Killman, the freshman team coach, the Freshman Baseball Team is made up of a "fine group of boys." These boys have joined the team to become better players so that when they are older, they can join the varsity team. They are looking forward to a fine season.

Coach, Karl Killman; Manager, Steve Zill.

First row: Willard Edwards, Erik Williams.
Second row: Paul Karjacie, Craig Forsythe, Roger Wesocrick, Dick Dawson, Rick VanderWall, Rich Tietema, Bob Fairbanks, Bob Krueger.
Third row: Denny Larson, Gary Montross, Steve Nesbitt, Ken Pechumer, Jack Schoon, Roger Schiefler, Augie Lanzon, Gregg Brachett.

athletic staff

Behind the athletic assemblies, meets, and games is the hard work of the Athletic Staff. At the heart of the Central High Athletic Department is Mr. Irwin. He has the responsibility of coordinating all the athletic activities. Working with Mr. Irwin is Sharon Seitz. Her duties include looking up eligibilities, keeping records, typing letters, and setting up athletic assemblies. They work to make the Athletic Department a smooth running and efficient organization.

ORGANIZATIONS

It has always been the purpose of the many clubs and organizations that exist at Central not only to further interest in various fields but also to perform service for the school. As the world has changed, so have the types and aims of the clubs at Central. Various secret societies and fraternities, which once abounded, have long since passed from the scene. Recent years have witnessed the emergence of several new clubs and the strengthening of old ones. Through these groups, students have an opportunity to participate in activities that are of special interest to them but which are not part of the regular school program. The clubs and organizations also do much to improve the school in various ways as is evidenced by their many worthwhile projects. In these groups, students not only meet new friends but also develop leadership qualities and a sense of co-operation.

First row: Matt Koukious, Lydia Burr, Bette Winters, Ed Ripmaster.
Second row: Howard Inclenrock, Judy Snyder, Carol Apostle, Doug Wiley, Cheryl Martinez, Carol Muste, Mary Kay Martin, Bonnie Cavenaugh.
Third row: Evens Koukious, Nancy Wendelandt, Kirby Hanson, Pam Nelson, Sue Myers, Rocky Rozema, Joanne Grachtrup.

senior student council

Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Holmes, the Senior High Student Council has had a very busy year. Throughout the school year, the council has been successful in promoting co-operation, raising morale, sponsoring activities, and serving as a means of communication between the students and administration. Other duties were to issue I. D. cards to all senior high students, to issue club charters, and to conduct student forums. Although the council has had a busy year, it has been able to devote much of its time and energy to proposing a new constitution which was introduced on a trial run the second semester.

The Standing Committee Chairmen co-ordinate all Student Council activities.

With the help of Mr. Van Aartsen, the Junior High Student Council has had a very active school year. The primary purpose of this organization is to provide activities for the junior high students and to help the school in whatever ways possible. This year the council has sponsored two junior high dances, two food sales, and the issuance of I.D. cards to all students in the seventh, eighth, and ninth grades. It is also sponsor of the Junior High Ushers. This year the council, in co-operation with Junior-Senior High Councils all over the state, has taken great strides in the study of improving our I.D. cards. It also donated money for the Freshman Football team uniforms which will be new next year, contributed money for the transformer for the microphones on the stage, and purchased a Michigan state flag for the auditorium.

The Rams' Review, Central High School's newspaper, acts as a means of communication for the students of all grades. The newspaper informs the school on all current events, on opportunities for the students, and on top personalities and achievements. In addition to putting out an eight page paper every month during the school year, resulting in ten issues, the participating students learn to cooperate with others, combine various ideas successfully, and become acquainted with the many problems of leadership by holding positions of responsibility on the staff. Under the supervision of Miss Schriber, the staff worked every sixth hour and many hours after school to put out the school paper. This year the editor of the Rams' Review was Kirby Hanson.

The Senior High Ushers are selected from the Junior Class each spring by a council of members of the administration and faculty. They are chosen on a basis of leadership, scholarship, and, most important, dependability. While still Juniors, they usher at the Numeral Day assembly, Class Night, and Class Day. In their Senior year, they usher at all special Senior High activities as well as assemblies. The head ushers this year were Fred Barr and Don Keegstra. Sponsored by Miss Chapman, the Senior High Ushers have not only rendered a valuable service, but have also worked hard to keep their position one of the most respected at Central High School.

Pam Kloet and Pat Wall are the Junior High Head Ushers.

Since the Junior High has its own assemblies and activities, it also has its own ushers. These outstanding freshmen are selected by the Junior High teachers and students for personality, leadership, and scholarship. They function at all Junior High assemblies and activities, just as the Senior Ushers do at Senior High assemblies and activities. This year, under the direction of Mr. Jarvis, the Junior High Ushers have performed a very useful service.

national honor society

This year, under the leadership of Miss Clarke and Miss Schriber, the National Honor Society carried on certain duties. Giving recognition for excellence in scholarship, leadership, character, and service, the organization inducted ten new members this winter. Each member must be in the top 15 per cent of his class and is elected by the faculty and members currently in the society. One purpose of this organization is to encourage leadership and service among its members as well as to promote new worthwhile projects which benefit the school. The National Honor Society has maintained the Lost and Found Department, has completed a floor plan of the school which is displayed on the first floor in a permanent mounting to aid visitors, and has circulated to the home rooms information on achievement standards for students. The organization will continue to seek projects which will be of service. Officers for the club were: Ventis Arins, president; Dick Hickok, vice-president; Carol Apostle, secretary; Dan McGrath, treasurer; and Bonnie Sholley, project committee.

The debate team has been very successful and active this year. Under the supervision of Miss DeYoung, the team took part in all City League meets during the months of December, January, and February in which they placed third. They also attended the High School Debate Clinic at Western Michigan University. Meeting as a class during the first semester, the members spent many hours preparing for debates with other high schools. The challenging topic for this year was: Resolved: That the federal government should equalize educational opportunity by means of grants to the states for public elementary and secondary schools.

The Senior High Red Cross, a service organization, has carried out several projects during the past year. The members, without receiving material gains themselves, have devoted much time in helping less fortunate people. One of their biggest projects was the annual fall membership and fund raising drive which was very successful. Another project which provided service was the weekly visits to the Welcome Home for the Aged Blind. At this home, the members wrote letters and read to the residents. A final service project was the sewing of stuffed animals and other articles which were distributed to needy children. These were only a few of the activities which the club sponsored under the guidance of Mrs. Quigley and Miss Hermanis.

The Junior High Red Cross, whose main purpose is to help less fortunate people throughout the world, worked hard this year at various projects. To help launch its annual membership drive, the Junior Red Cross Council held an assembly to acquaint Junior High students with the purpose and many important activities of the Red Cross. In the spring, the members were busy with their biggest project, packing various small articles, such as pins and pencils, collected in the home rooms, to send overseas to needy people. Under the sponsorship of Mr. Overby and the leadership of capable officers, the Junior High Red Cross has successfully fulfilled its goals this year.

senior y teens

The aims of this organization, which is larger than usual, are to live in a Christian spirit, encourage friendship, and serve the people in their community. The Senior Y-Teens, like the Junior Y-Teens, is closely affiliated with YWCA. The interclub meetings are held at the YWCA. One of the money making projects was a dance. On Halloween they collected approximately $75 for UNICEF. They also dressed dolls at Christmas time, made cookies for the veterans, and addressed envelopes for the March of Dimes. Some members participated in the "Hanging of the Greens" program at Christmas at the YWCA.

junior y teens

The girls belonging to Junior Y Teens are in the seventh, eighth, and ninth grades. The purposes of this club are to grow in the knowledge and love of God, grow as persons, and grow in friendship toward all persons. The Junior Y Teens is closely affiliated with the YWCA. Among their activities, the girls went caroling at Christmas time, addressed envelopes for the March of Dimes, and made valentines for the veterans on Valentine's Day. Also, they had representatives attend interclub meetings at the YWCA once a month. Here they met girls from other schools and learned of the activities in which they participated.

youth for christ

The purposes of the Youth for Christ Club are to introduce God in a meaningful way, work together, and to further Christian fellowship. This club meets every Wednesday during the activity period, and it is composed of students from the seventh to the twelfth grade. Many times they have special speakers or movies. One of their most outstanding programs was the program in which the Teen Team appeared. Some of their outside activities have been a hayride, several parties, and a food sale. This club is associated with the city Youth For Christ. This year's officers are President Marilyn Landis, Vice President Paul de Vries, Secretary Pat Landauer and Treasurer Bob Welsh. The sponsors are Mr. Meyaard and Mr. Olsen.

big brother-big sister

The Big Brother-Big Sister Club has done a tremendous job this year in helping Junior High students become better acquainted with Central High School. One way in which they accomplished this was by printing an orientation sheet. On this sheet, a plan of the school and other material vital to new pupils appeared. Another service which they performed was a tour for students who would be coming to Central from the feeder schools this fall. A seventh grade workshop for students needing additional help with schoolwork was a project originated this year. Their annual award for the eighth grade boy showing the greatest improvement during the year was a final service that the club performed. Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Henry, the Big Brother-Big Sister Club attained their goals with success.

The Agona Club, newly sponsored by Mrs. Judy Mais, is Central's most outstanding organization for girls. Any junior or senior girl with a "B" average who has participated in G.A.A. for at least one year is eligible for membership. However, at the end of the school year, a freshman girl is awarded the Agona Cup, entitling her to membership in the club in her sophomore year. Following a humorous informal initiation, the initiates, in a formal initiation, pledge themselves to promote scholarship, good sportmanship, and active citizenship. Selling baked goods to raise money for the Santa Claus Girls, giving baskets to needy families on Thanksgiving and Christmas, and selling carnations on Valentine's Day and St. Patrick's Day, the Agona members have been very active this year. In addition to this, they presented one of their graduating members with a seventy-five dollar scholarship to Junior College. They also presented the Tri-Honor Cup to an outstanding Senior girl.

girls' athletic association

The Girls' Athletic Association seeks to build sportsmanship and good citizenship through sports. Being a member of G. A. A. helps a girl meet new friends from the tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grades. The girls compete in games such as volleyball, basketball, badminton, table tennis, and softball. At the end of the year the girls were awarded numerals of their graduating year for the first year, a small 'C' for the second year, and all-city honor pins for the third year.

The main purpose of the C-Club is to bring all lettermen to a closer relationship. To qualify for this club, a student in the tenth, eleventh, or twelfth grade, who has won a major letter, can be initiated into the organization. The pledges have an initiation week in which they have to polish shoes for the old members and serve them as "slaves." This year, as every year, the club members have sponsored many activities. This included two dances, a Christmas basket for a needy family, a coaching clinic, C-Club-Faculty Game, and a banquet. The club has also taken on the responsibility of welcoming teams from out of town.

Under the sponsorship of Miss DeYoung, the varsity cheerleaders have again completed two successful seasons of cheering. This year, with Judie Mertz as captain, they have taught several new cheers that have been a success at both football and basketball games. The cheerleaders undertook and succeeded in projects to earn money for the purpose of sending three varsity cheerleaders to a summer camp. The first project was the sale of pom-poms during the football season. Second, was the sale of clapping blocks for use at the basketball games. The cheerleaders felt that with the help of the student body, they have accomplished their purpose of promoting spirit at games and pep assemblies.

A new cheer was introduced by the cheerleaders at a basketball pep assembly.

The heart of the successful JETS Club, Junior Engineering Technical Society, sponsored by Mr. Arndt, hinges on interest by the members. The JETS Club was formed to stimulate interest in different phases of engineering such as the chemical and electrical fields. For those who have at least fair aptitudes for mathematical subjects, it offers opportunities to prepare for an engineering career. It promotes and encourages good scholarship as required training for college. This year the JETS Club took field trips to Reynolds Metals, Steelcase, and Automatic Music, Incorporated. The club also hopes to keep up its practice of awarding five dollars to the best junior high mathematics student.

One of the newly formed clubs this year is LeCercle Français, sponsored by Mr. Olsen. The purpose of the club is to create an interest in France, its culture, customs, and language. It also encourages other students to take a foreign language. This year this was accomplished in the form of a language assembly in which the French Club presented a skit, "Les Spectres Qui Ont Ri," (The Ghosts That Giggled). Also to promote interest, the club arranged for pen pals in France, sang French Christmas carols, and arranged one of the 2nd floor bulletin boards with French posters, pictures, and maps. Its first big project was to collect clothes for needy people. To add to the learning of the language, the meetings were conducted partially in French in addition to speakers and showing of pictures on France.

classical and spanish clubs

The purpose of the Classical Club is to further interest in the study of languages and to encourage an appreciation for the cultural aspects of Greek and Roman life. The Classical Club sponsored the Latin play for the seventh and eighth grades in which the Spanish and French classes also took part. They also made notebooks for the children at Mary Freebed Hospital. The Classical Club initiation, as in past years, required that the new members wear Roman-style togas and speak Latin to everyone. The club has had a very progressive year under the leadership of Miss Fennell.

The purpose of the Spanish Club is to extend the knowledge of the Spanish language and to spread interest in Spain and other Spanish speaking countries. The club meetings are, for the most part, conducted in Spanish. New members must be inducted in a formal initiation, and they must have at least a B average in Spanish. Although the Spanish Club is not one of the largest organizations in Central, the club has had many activities this year. At Christmas time, a basket containing food was given to a family. The club has had food sales in order to make money for their yearly gift to Central. Also, the Spanish Club gives an award to the second year Spanish student who has made the most progress and has attained the highest average. The club is sponsored by Miss Fennell, teacher of both Latin and Spanish.

business club

A newly-formed club at Central this year, the Business Club, renders valuable clerical assistance to teachers, students, and other organizations. The members of this club are students of grades 10-12 who have taken or are taking commercial subjects. Furthermore, they must have at least a "C" average. In addition to taking dictation and doing typing for a small fee, the club members this year participated in the "Toys for Tots" drive at Christmas and a special project for children in the hospital at Easter. Under the direction of Mr. Van-Dop, the Business Club has proved to be a very worthwhile organization.

helping hand club

The Helping Hand Club at Orthopedic School is divided into junior and senior high school membership. Seventh through ninth graders are considered juniors unless promoted through unusual service. Senior members, grades ten through twelve, are the only ones who can run for office. Responsibilities for a democratic program of activities and service are divided among the membership. This year the club has "adopted" a worthy local family to help with gifts, food, and clothing. They also donated to different organizations such as Red Cross and Radio Free Europe, and helped to raise funds for the Senior Trip.

Sponsors: George McClennan, Mrs. Arselia Sehler.

audio-visual

The Audio-Visual staff has a great deal to do with making education more interesting and enjoyable to both the students and the teachers. The staff, headed by Mr. Posthumus, aids teachers in the operation of movie projectors, tape recorders, and other technical equipment. Assisting Mr. Posthumus is a a staff of clerks and typists. They keep up to date records of all films and tapes in the library. Through these media, students are taken beyond the limits of the classroom and are shown new aspects of their studies.

future teachers' club

The main purpose of the Future Teachers' Club is to create better relations between students and teachers and to give the students an idea of what a teaching career would include. This past year, the members, students from the ninth through 12th grades, visited a teaching workshop where they held discussions. The club also had guest speakers, Mr. Barr and Mr. King. Miss Westra and Mr. Ten Have are sponsors for the group.

library club

One of the most helpful clubs at Central is the Library Club. Under the direction of our head librarian, Mrs. Brower, members of grades 9-12 provide a great deal of assistance in the library, working at least two hours each week during their study periods. Their main tasks include checking out books, stamping permits, aiding students in finding and choosing books, processing new books, and returning books to their places on the shelves. Although the club has not had any special activities this year, the members have given their time and energy to keep our library running smoothly.

golden girls

Providing much color at many events is one of Central's newer organizations, the Golden Girls. They performed many intricate and varied drills before football games and during the half-time shows. Their precise marching formations gave much variety to the games. Being part of the band, they led it in the parades in which it participated such as the Santa Claus parade. They were also featured in the Pops Concert in which they performed an interesting routine on the stage. To be prepared for these activities, the girls rehearsed twice weekly during much of the summer with new routines being added during this period. Showing their great interest in the organization, the girls themselves buy the impressive white uniforms that they wear. The girls were under the direction and leadership of Nancy Wendlandt.

a capella choir

Displaying Central's finest talent in the choral music field, the A Cappella Choir not only presented many fine productions for the student body, but also represented our school at many community functions. The eighty members of the choir were auditioned and selected by Mr. Schellenberger, the director and sponsor of the group. Only those students with the required musical talent are inducted into the group. To develop and improve their skill at singing the many intricate patterns of choral music, the choir practiced every day during the third hour. While the A Cappella Choir sang a great variety of songs, it usually emphasized the more serious works of the musical world. At Central, the group appeared in the Veterans' Day assembly, the Christmas assembly, and in the spring concert. In addition, the choir caroled in the halls before Christmas and also provided the singers for the musical, "Annie Get Your Gun." Outside of Central, the choir appeared in the community vesper program, sang Christmas carols over television station WOOD, were in the youth festival chorus, and appeared on a program of the Grand Rapids Symphony. Mr. Schellenberger reported that in the short time he has been at Central, he has seen interest in choral music greatly increase among the students.

senior band

The forty-two members of the Senior Band, sponsored by Mr. Newton Becker, made this an especially enjoyable year for Central High School with their many musical endeavors. Nevertheless, most students do not realize the many hours this group spends in preparation during school hours and after school. The excellent productions that the band stages are the final result of these many hours of effort. In addition to providing music for all pep assemblies, the band staged the entertaining half-time shows at our football games. They were featured in the pops concert, spring concert, the music festival, the solo ensemble, and also provided music for the musical show. Mr. Becker stated that there has been a steady growth of musical development in the three short years he has been here, a result of cooperation, pride, and spirit among the music students.

junior band

Central's Junior Band is composed of Junior High students. The students usually join this band in the seventh grade, and many have had little or no training in the field of music. The Junior Band gives a student an opportunity to learn to play a musical instrument and to co-operate as a member of a group. Their class met every day to give the students the necessary experience needed to join the Senior Band.

Trombones: Larry Hickok, Fred Stewart, Don Williams.

Developing Central's fine musicians of the future is the aim of the Junior Orchestra. This group, headed by Mr. Becker, endeavors to encourage the growth of musical talent among the Junior High students by letting them play in a formal orchestra. Many of the members are introduced for the first time to the many facets and pleasures of fine music. With this training program, we may be sure that Central will not lack good musicians in the future.

First row: Jane Wong, Susan Jo Anderson, Nancy Wong, Loraine Trombley, Susan Kapteya, Marlene Kopen, Charles Graham.

senior orchestra

Senior orchestra is meant to be a cultural subject which gives instrumental students an opportunity to learn and study the music of the masters and more contemporary composers. Besides playing for the school at various activities throughout the year such as the Christmas assembly and the Spring Honors assembly, the orchestra members participate in community cultural activities. Some of these being the Grand Rapids Pop Concert, the Civic Theater, and the Grand Rapids Symphony.

Seated: Mary Ann Stiles, Judy Schubert, Joanne Whip, Joyce Catchpaw.

junior high chorus

The Junior High Chorus is an organization that seeks to promote interest in choral singing among the junior high students by providing any interested student with a chance to participate in group singing. The chorus met twice a week after school to improve their ability to sing music. Accompanied by Mrs. Roman, and led by Mr. Schellenberger, the members were introduced to a large variety of musical numbers and styles to widen their knowledge of the field. As an entirely new experience to most of the members, the chorus provided an opportunity to uncover previously hidden musical talents. The members also learned that co-operation and harmony is necessary for successful group singing. The chorus appeared in the Christmas assembly, a special assembly, and the spring concert.

ACTIVITIES

Each year at Central has witnessed events that highlighted the lives of the students and that have had significant meaning for them. This year has been no exception with student participation in the math exhibit, the science fair, the senior play, and a musical comedy. Through the many hours of effort and co-operation in the previously mentioned activities, students have demonstrated their school spirit which created a sense of unity and pride in a year to remember.

Second row: Karen Grooters; Connie Kazma, Charyl Martinez.
Third row: Fred Barr; Ventis Arins; Brian Snyder.
Fourth row: Diane Garnett, Dale Weekly.

golden moments

This year Golden Moments was the theme of the Annual Homecoming. The gaily decorative Wolverine Room in the former Randall House made a beautiful setting for queen Petra Voigt and king Ted Sampanes and for the eight members of their court. During the Homecoming game, Central won over Union 29-6, Mr. Romani crowned Petra in the half time ceremony.

senior play

Following a long-standing tradition at Central, the Senior Class presented a play in the fall. This year they selected "Onions in the Stew," a rollicking comedy about island living, teen-agers, and parents and all the fun that a mixture of these elements can create. The leading players were Jim Van Houten, Becky Wotring, Charyl Martinez, and Karen Grooters. In spite of low voices, missed cues, and cramped dressing rooms, all the actors enjoyed being in the play.

Moving in sure is fun when one is searching for something to eat.

veterans' day

Those from Central who served in World War I, World War II, European Occupations, and the Korean War were again honored in the traditional and beautiful Armed Services Day Program. On the eleventh of November, there was an assembly at which a guest speaker gave a special address and the Senior Class President and the highest ranking girl placed flowers at the memorial on the front campus of Central.

This past year, twirp season ended with the traditional Boys' Heaven Dance. The successful dance gave boys an opportunity to "free-load" on their dates as for many, dinner was also in the schedule. The gaily decorated girls' gym was a beautiful setting for the festive occasion.

art gallery

Mary Nelson and Carol Klunder view some of their own art work on display at the Art Gallery.

An interesting exhibit was on display at the Grand Rapids Art Gallery in March. It included works from 59 public schools, grades kindergarten through twelve. Central is proud to have had "A Quiet Moment" by Jim Johnson shown in the display. Central students also participated in the Red Cross International Art Program. They contributed drawings which depicted American life. Two of Dick Stein's drawings were chosen to be sent overseas. Diane Garnett received an award for having her entry from last year chosen for a special exhibit overseas.

c-club basketball game

The women teachers cheer the faculty on.

What many students had suspected for a long time came true when faculty members revealed their true natures in the Faculty-C-Club basketball game, held in the school gym. The teachers came as clowns, beatnicks, and other ridiculous characters. To prove that they were concerned with the well-being of basketball, the teachers introduced such new innovations as putting one player on top of another and having two or three balls in play at the same time. Nevertheless, the C-Club managed a 27-25 victory.

This past year, Central attempted an entirely new venture in the musical field by presenting Irving Berlin's musical comedy, "Annie Get Your Gun." Fred Barr was cast in the male lead as Frank Butler and Connie Kazma was selected to play the female lead as Annie Oakley. Other featured players were Pat Riley, John Nink, Sandi Singer, and Steve Samuelson. Indicative of the enthusiastic reception that the production received was the fact that over one thousand music lovers came to see each performance.

In recent years, the role of science has grown tremendously both here at Central and throughout the world. This increased importance of science was not lost at Central as over sixty students entered their projects in Central's Science Fair. Under the direction of Mr. Meyaard, the exhibits were placed in Room 28 where many students viewed them. The winners were Bill Neddermann in the senior physical science division,

Carol,
Here's wishing you the best of luck always. I hope English isn't as tough as it was this year. I mean because of the assignment we had. Those long hours of work. Well have a nice summer and I'll see you next fall.
Always
Wilma

Carol, Idiot!
Hiya - How are ya? Have you been good lately, like me? I hope not! (Don't take that wrong!) Think you'll pass this year? I guess I will too, by some miracle. Loads of luck on exams and everything else & a real smart girl - stay that way!

Love ya,
Judy Ze "64"

Carol,
I've been having you in class this year. Hope you have a nice summer. Keep your head down & don't flunk Algebra.
Norman Dyson
'63

Carol,
I enjoyed knowing you and hope you have the best of luck in the future.
Love in Christ
Jimmy

Carol
It has been nice to be in your English class this year. Good luck on your exams.
Your friend
Joel Hulka

It's been a whole a year and an enjoyable one too. Hope to see ya sometime during the summer.
Good Luck in the coming years
Chuck Gorton '64

Carol,
It's been nice being in John Honcock
the same homeroom this year. Good Luck on your exams. Hope I see you next year.
Trudy
'64

Carol,
I have had fun knowing you these past years. Long time huh? The year pasted too quickly for me. I hope to see you again next year if its at allpossible. Have fun this summer.

Your friend and mine,
Doxine
'65'

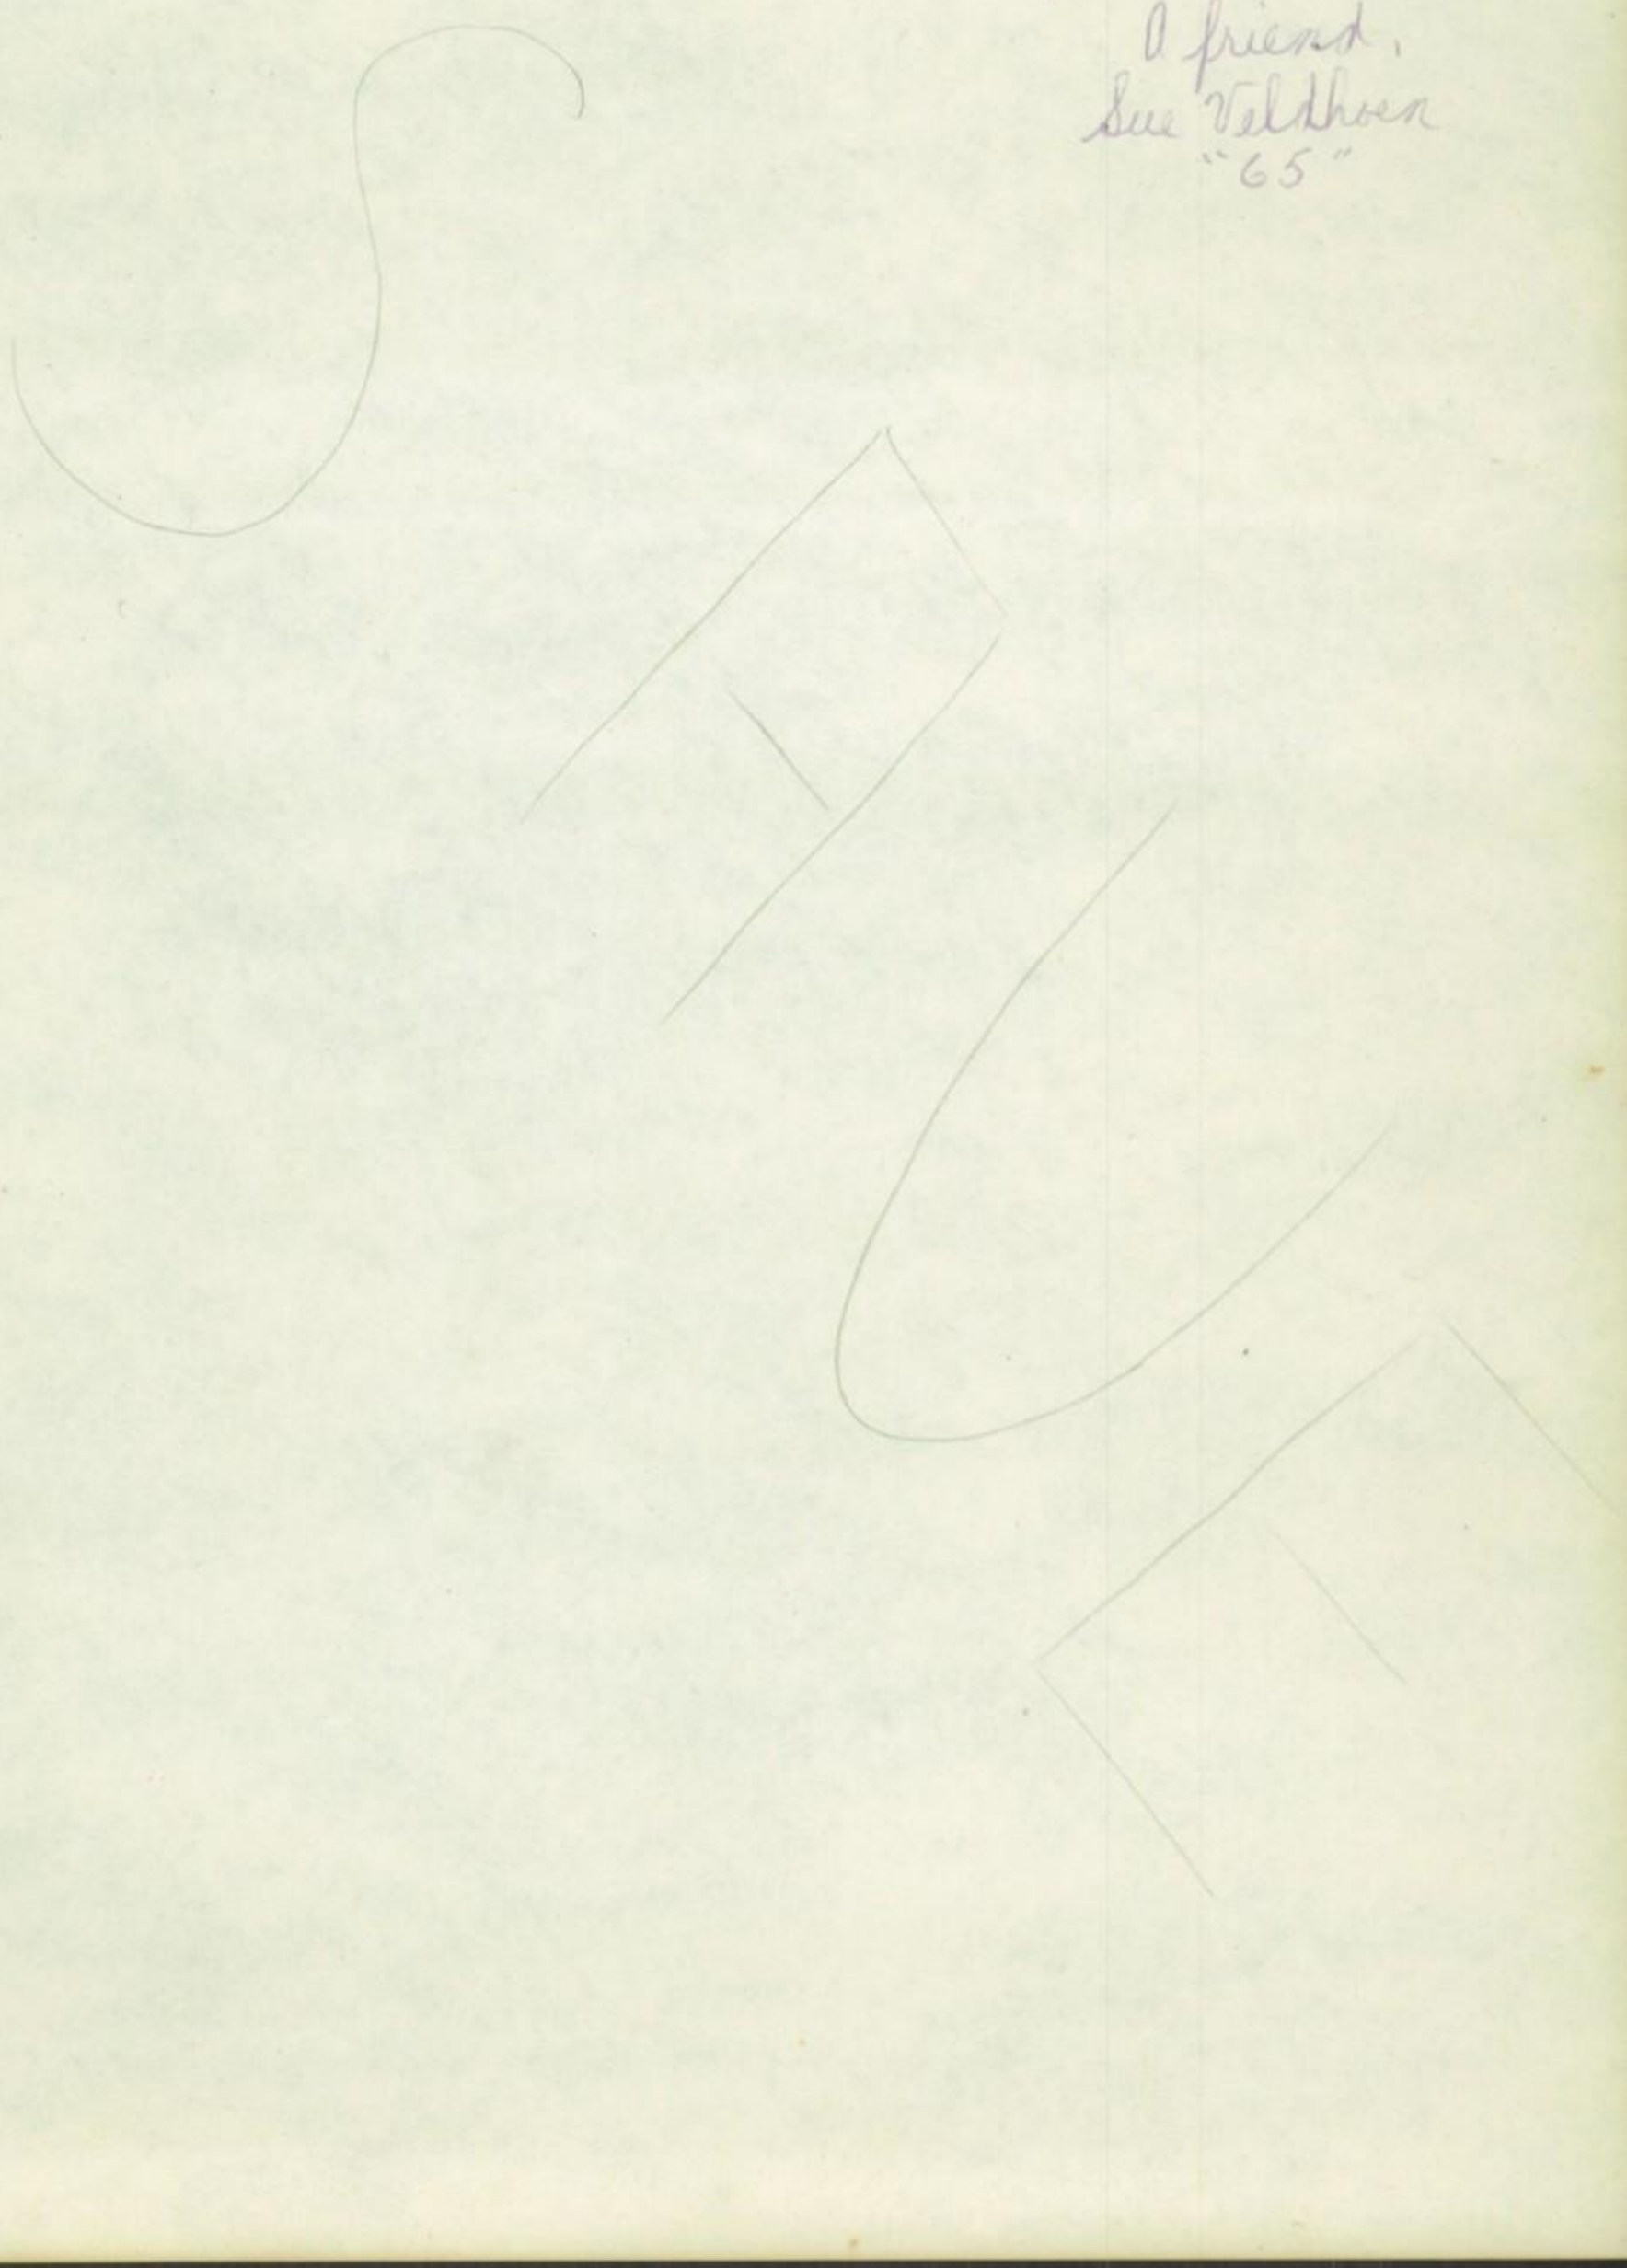
Carol,
I was sure nice knowing you this past year. Good luck on your coming exams especially history. We all had fun getting Frisbie mad and keeping the class in an uproar. Maybe I'll see you at the beach this years. Stay as sweet as your are now.

Always your friend
Dick

Carol,

I'm glad I met you this year, and it's been fun knowing you. Good luck on your exams, and have fun this summer.

A friend,
Sue Veldhoen
"65"



Hi Carol!
I've really enjoyed knowing you. I like you. I don't think I'll ever forget you. Maybe we'll meet again on Miss Sinisbee's. Have fun This summer

Nancy Burgett

It has been fun having you sit next to me in Geometry class this semester and see you get all the A's when I get all the -AHEM- Good luck in everything you do.

Bob Welch

Carol!
To a real
nice girl lol so luck
through the years
Kiss Butler

Querida Carol,
Best wishes in whatever you do and good luck on your exams. See you next year in Spanish II if you're taking it
Hasta luego amiga,
Mary

Carol,
Thanks a million for helping me get underway here at Central. For a while there, I was scared half out of my wits. I've enjoyed knowing you for the past 1½ years and I'm glad that we could finally come to the same school. See you next year in home room!
always,
Norma

Carol,
well the school year is at another close
now. It sure has been a real lot. Hope you're not too sorry to see some of most classes next year.
Have fun this summer.
Always,
